"Relocation and Transformation of Memory"

Combining elements of art and mathematics the public art concept combines literal and abstract images based on images of the site before modernization and text elements, unscoring the location as one that encourages public voice.

The sculptural elements are a combination of an abstracted floor image(anamorphosis) created in full colour porcelain tiles,and a cylindrical mirror that reflects and transforms the anamorphosis into recognizable images of the original site.

The text elements incorporated into the sculpture and on the granite walls act as a further reminder of the Speakers Corner site as public space,reinforcing the encouragement of public voice through repeating phrases SPEAKINGPUBLICSPEAKING and SPEAK UP and SPEAK OUT.
